New Mission of Burma DVD

Not A Photograph, out November 21 on MVD Visual follows the legendary art-punk band Mission of Burma from their rebirth in 2002 to the present. Originally formed in Boston in the early eighties, Mission of Burma was cited as being ahead of their time, a reputation that lasts to this day. Their influence can be felt in bands as diverse as The Pixies, Yo La Tengo, and Moby, as well as countless other artists. The release of The Obliterati on Matador Records in 2006 showcased the band's visionary talent and proved that they are still on the cutting edge of their genre.

Busdriver On Tour

Join our Mailing List

Click here to apply for ALARM street team.

LA native Busdriver is hitting the road with Pigeon John and Boston's own hip hop wrestler Akrobatik. Busdriver will be promoting his Anti/Epitaph Records debut RoadKillOvercoat, his fifth album, due out in January 2007. If you haven't heard the 12" that dropped already with the single "Kill Your Employer", it's worth the listen. Look for a winter feature in ALARM. Click below for the complete tour dates.

Rock Kills Kid Arrest Some Fool

Rock Kills Kid front man Jeff Tucker and Rodney Afshari, Tucker's manager, chased down and pinned some fool who tried to rob Tucker's hotel room while he was sleeping. Tucker was staying at a Doubletree in Hawaii with his fiancée Natasha Melnick (who you may realize from Freaks and Geeks or Boston Public) when he saw some bum riffling through his stuff. Turns out the thief was Brandon Riester, a 20-year old member of the US Navy. Way to train 'em! Tucker and Afshari chased the guy down the street and held him till the police showed up.
