

AZL AGES ZINE

Chicago Based Music Magazine Est. 2002

MISSION OF BURMA

Not A Photograph

MVD

Mission of Burma was more or less a band that was way before their time. In the mid-80's they brought their take on rock music to the stage that these days would be classified as grunge. They played influence for bands like The Pixies, Nirvana, etc... So why have you never really heard of them? They broke up before you had the chance and this DVD is about their reunion 19 years after the fact. I usually hate DVD's like this because they show you everything about that comeback show. This DVD however does things a little bit differently. They don't just focus on the one big show, but rather tells the story of the band from their beginnings up to this reunion show. You learn the history of Mission To Burma through clips, interviews, etc... from the people that lived it. It's almost like you are reading a book about the band. It flows quickly through their history and leads up to the reunion show. Without the focus being on the big comeback show, this DVD became a solid piece of work that teaches you about an influential band. You will walk away from this with respect for them. (JK)

<http://www.allageszine.com/movies>