

calendar reviews features listen blog indieRSS about us contact

SEARCH

FILM ETC

Einstürzende Neubauten "Palast Der Republik" DVD Review

Jesus Coffee House picture MySpace could destroy your life

Two more days...

Tonight's Recommended Event: Reading and Dance party with Miranda July Good Band, Bad Website Design

Amazon will offer online music without copy protection

Mirah at the Seattle International Children's Festival

Tonight's Recommended Show: Kristin Hersh at the Tractor

Hey imaginary Liz: You! Me! Superfanning!

Photo of the day: my Visqueen superfan moment!

Nick Cave and the Bad Seeds gnarly-charming guitarist Blixa with his own legendary band, Einstürzende Neubauten (which I will never learn to pronounce), have a new DVD available. For the uninitiated, Einstuerzende Neubauten isn't some half-assed solo project. A long-running, boundaries-shattering collective that used actual noise from materials found in scrapyards along with more traditional instrumentation, this live reunion DVD was filmed in the same year as the Cave set, and is just as lean, mean, and on fire. (Don't expect the apocalyptic pop to be as hummable as the tunes on 'Abattoir Blues' though.)

Unlike the somewhat spare BAD disc, this release comes loaded with extras, including unreleased songs and fun features. From the atonal but utterly rhythmic opening track "Haus Der Luege" onward, Einstuerzende Neubauten defy you to pigeonhole them as frivolous texture-makers, crafting compelling frameworks from oodles of sonic wire and night wind.

{buy it}

-Chris Estey, May 14, 2007

Sub Pop indie-rock powerpop electronica The Showbox singer-songwriter portland alt-country The Long Winters New York Chop Suey punk Self-released Barsuk kexp The Crocodile lo-fi alt-folk Graceland indie-pop UK Visqueen northwest rock seattle

Today

With Friends Like These {album release}/Lonesome Rhodes & The Good Company/League Night, Crocodile

Frontline Assembly/The Start/Desillusion/Black Aura, El Corazon*

The Tulalip Two/The Raineros/The Hauloff & Smacksomebodies, Jules Maes

The Krell/Screwcap/Majesty In Denial, Skylark

Miranda July/Becky Stark/Awesome/Sarah Rudinoff/Joshua Roman/DJ Fucking In The Streets/DJ Sam Rouso Sound System, Neumo's (8pm, free) !

Dead Vampires/Hearseburner/The Time Warps, Fun House

"Ball Of Wax Vol. 8 Release" - Joy Wants Eternity/Bill Horist/Snowman Plan/Correspondents/The Pica Beats/The Luna Moth/Daughters Of Atlas/Mark Schlipper/Emory Liu/Levi Fuller, Sunset Tavern

Mother Hips/Hiss Golden Messenger/Pink Nasty, Tractor

Shorthand For Epic/Optimus Rhyme/Patient Patient/Blue Checkered Record Player, High Dive

Join Our Mailing List MySpace iTunes KEXP Blog Advertise with TIG RSS Reviews RSS TIG blog

calendar | reviews | features | listen | blog | indieRSS | about us | contact

© Three Imaginary Girls Advertise on TIG