Tim Buckley performances DVD revealed

'My Fleeting House' hits shelves this summer

A DVD featuring a collection of performances of Tim Buckley is set to be released in May.

Featuring rare live performances from various television shows and interview footage spanning his career from 1967 to 1974, 'My Fleeting House' also includes 11 songs and interviews with Lee Underwood, who was Buckley's guitarist, and Larry Beckett, who co-wrote many of his songs.

Over the course of his career, Buckley (father of the late Jeff Buckley) incorporated jazz, psychedelia, funk, soul, and avant-garde rock into his sound. He died in 1975, aged 28, from a mixture of heroin and alcohol.

The tracklisting for the DVD is:

'No Man Can Find the War' (from 'Inside Pop')

'Happy Time' (from 'Late Night Line-Up')

'Morning Glory' (from 'Late Night Line-Up')

'Dolphins' (from 'The Old Grey Whistle Test')

'Song to the Siren' (from 'The Monkees Show')

'Who Do You Love' (from 'Greenwich Village')

'Happy Time' (from Dutch TV)

'Sing a Song for You' (from Dutch TV)

'Sally Go Round the Roses' (from 'Music Video Live')
'Blue Melody' (from 'Boboquivari')
'Venice Beach (Music Boats by the Bay)' (from 'Boboquivari')
'I Woke Up' (from 'The Show')
'Come Here Woman' (from 'The Show')
'Pleasant Street' (from 'the Christian Licorice Store')

'My Fleeting House' will be released on May 15.
