

WILLAMETTE WEEK

May 9, 2007

*NEW* Tim Buckley: My Fleeting House

[ONE NIGHT ONLY] Screw YouTube. I love finding obscure music clips online, but tiny, blurry images with lousy sound don't cut it. Compare those vids with the new DVD, Tim Buckley: My Fleeting House, featuring long-lost TV appearances taken from original masters, with best-possible sound and picture clarity. It also includes interviews with Buckley experts including Portland poet Larry Beckett, who co-wrote many of Buckley's best songs, and introduces tonight's screening. Damp panties and man-crushes will fill the Bagdad at the sight and sound of Buckley's manly visage and heavenly voice; his posthumous comeback starts here. JEFF ROSENBERG. Bagdad. 7 pm Monday, May 14. Free. 21 and up.