Seinfeld Season 4
May 17, $50

Apparently this show was pretty popular. Notable episodes from this season: "The Bubble Boy," "The Junior Mint," "The Airport" and "The Smelly Car."

Tales From the Crypt Season One

July 5

Surely this is some sort of wonderful nightmare. All six episodes from the show's 1989 season¹ are here along with your host the Crypt Keeper,² he of the decaying flesh and horrible puns. Pay careful attention to our two favorite episodes: "And All Through the House" (Larry Drake is an escaped mental patient on a Christmas killing spree) and "Dig That Cat...He's Real Gone" (Joe Pantoliano is a greedy magician with nine lives).

Public Enemy—It Takes a Nation: The First London Invasion Tour 1987

May 24, $17

"I'll show you my gun, my Uzi weighs a ton/ Because I'm public enemy number one." Truer words were never spoken. This DVD follows the rap pioneers on Def Jam's 1987 European tour. Featuring cool old interviews and photos—and, of course, amazing performances—it's a must-own. And we should know. We're white and grew up in the suburbs!

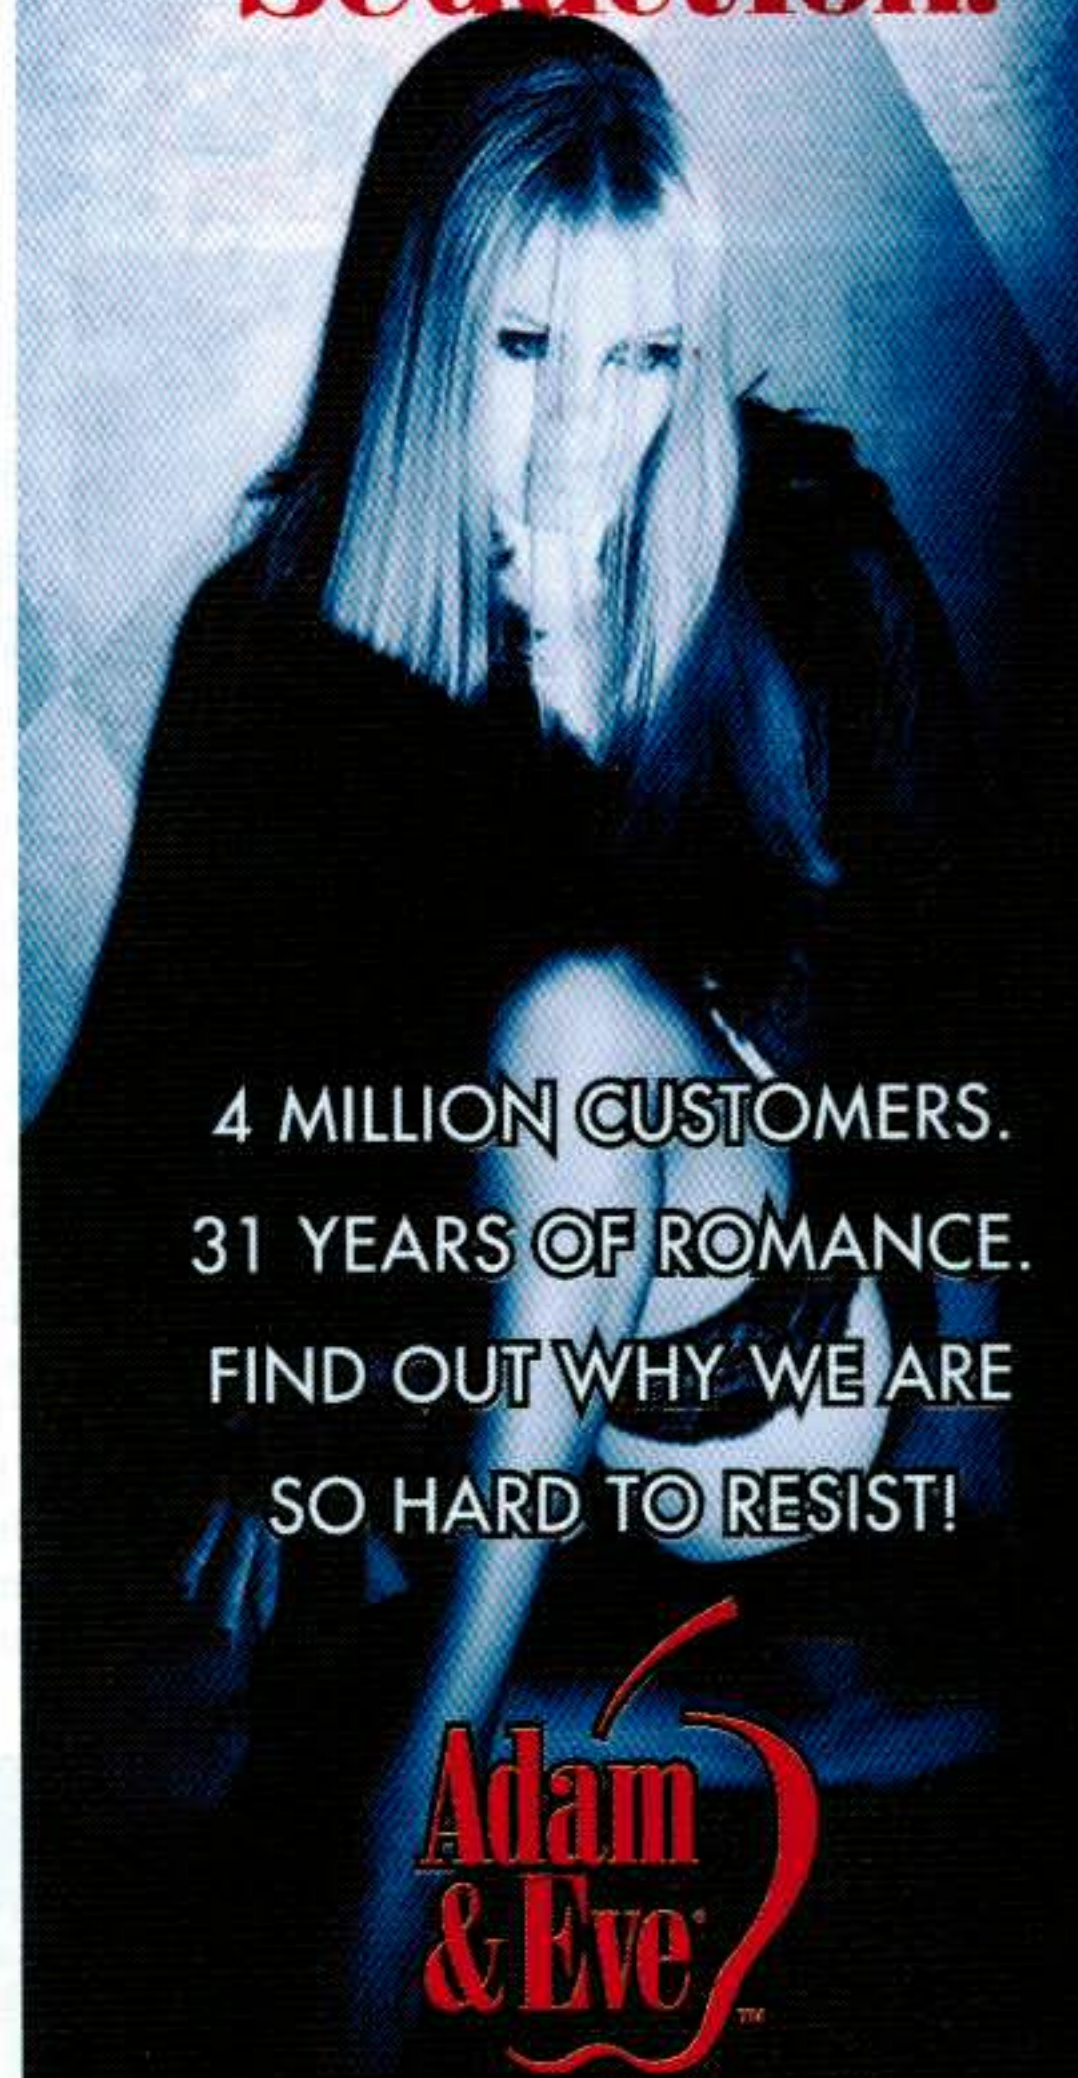

Casino 10th Anniversary Edition June 14, $23

All those bright lights, shitty magicians and cheap buffets didn't happen by accident, you know. It took the Mob to class up the desert. This edition of Scorsese's classic has some great extras, highlighted by five featurettes—one that explains how the filmmakers achieved that vintage '70s look and another about the real-life inspirations for the movie's colorful characters.

1. Tales would go on to inspire a cartoon (Tales From the Cryptkeeper), a Saturday morning game show (Secrets of the Crypt Keeper's Haunted House) and two crappy movies!
2. John Cassisi, who provided the voice for the Crypt Keeper, once beat Sinbad in a stand-up comedy competition on Starsearch.
