

FREE

METRO

Friday, July 14, 2006

www.metro.co.uk

MUSIC DVDS

Plaid & Bob Jaroc: Greedy Baby
Warp, 52min, £10.99 ★★★★★

Pink Floyd: Pulse
EMI, 170min, £21.99 ★★★★★

Black Uhuru With Sly & Robbie:
Dubbin' It Live
Wienerworld, 75min, £15.99 ★★★★★

Eurovision Song Contest
– Athens 2006
EMI, 360min, £15.99 ★★★★★

It could be argued that the sparse presentation of Dubbin' It Live, a concert recording of reggae favourites Black Uhuru with inimitable rhythm section Sly Dunbar and Robbie Shakespeare, matches the dub sound of the music. Luckily, the quality of the filming, dating from 2001's Paleo Festival in Switzerland, is high. By that time, Black Uhuru were in their fifth incarnation with Duckie Simpson but the return to the stage of Sly and Robbie after a ten-year hiatus made for an occasion. Classics such as Sinsemilla and Guess Who's Coming To Dinner delight the crowd but add little to previous recordings.

Extras: Three songs viewable from different camera angles. Mark Ward