

The Drifters, The Greatest Hits

The Drifters is a R&B group which was formed in 1953 and included 57 different members, surely a record. Therefore, the 4 current members don't have obviously anything to do with the band which had a huge success in the 50's and 60's. This compilation contains the greatest hits of the group through their career, but re-recorded by the current members in February 2006. We can hear 20 classics including the mega hits "Save The Last Dance For Me", "Sweet Caroline" and "Kissin' In The Back Row Of The Movies". In bonus, we can view 3 live videos: "A World Of Love" (with Gary Brooker as special guest), "Stand By Me" (in a new gospel version) and "White Christmas". The quality of the recording is exceptional and gives full justice to these classics, but if you want to hear the original versions, this is certainly not the compilation you need. Next month, I will talk about the DVD Greatest Hits Live. Check it out...
