SAINT DIABLO/Saint Diablo (Eclipse Records) This is another deathcore band and they weren't bad music wise. I wasn't into the vocals are it just that same Phil from Pantera style and then clean vocals which I hate big time and has been to death and then some. The music, at least the band try's something different as it isn't all just groove and nu metal riffs and they branch off a bit and throw in some weird riffing at times and it sounded cool and not out of place. I am not a big fan of all this nu metal stuff, but at least this band branches out a bit, please lose the clean vocals. Info: www.eclipserrecords.com
