Southlander - Diary of a Desperate Musician

DVD: 2003, Eclectic DVD Dist; Theatrical Release: 2001, Propaganda Films
by Yvonne Glasgow

How do you explain a movie that draws you in to its poor filming and good acting? I can't tell you that, but I can tell you that Southlander is a 'cult classic'.

This movie stars Rory Cochrane (Empire Records) as an aspiring musician who purchases a "magical" white keyboard that is then stolen from him and he spends the whole movie trying to find it.

Throughout the movie, you see some famous musical faces like Hank Williams III, Beth Orton, Beck, and Elliot Smith (who also did the music for the movie). You will also find Laura Prepon (That 70's Show) playing a clairvoyant of sorts.

This movie is amazing, though it may take a bit to get past its rough outer edges; and just wait until you see the big metal monster crushing cars!!!
