

Godsend Online

"Gothic Vampires From Hell" DVD - This shallow indie film serves as little more than a showcase and promo vehicle for Cleopatra's endless recycling of their old goth and industrial-dance titles. Focusing primarily on Christian Death (the main band here 'covers' them, bad lipsyncing included), Leather Strip, and the Electric Hellfire Club, this feature-length movie further perpetuates every bad Goth Topic stereotype imaginable. Even the lead character goes by the name 'Draven'. Yikes. And to add insult to injury, much of the footage here is recycled - used multiple times within this very film! And CGI effects for blood and guts? Say it ain't so! There's little to recommend this, aside from some incidental sound from Dead Voices On Air, which I'm sure Mr. Spybey didn't have any involvement with nor input in. Looking for a truly cringeworthy C-grade horror flick for a drunken night with friends? Here's your poison. Otherwise, I'd say keep very far away from this stinker. (Cleopatra/MVD Visual)
