SEX in your 70s BOOSTS brainpower

OK, this is NOT male propaganda, but a genuine scientific study that suggests sex will help keep your mind sharp as you age!

Research published in the American Journal of Geriatric Psychiatry showed that study participants ranging in age from 58 to 98 did better on memory and abstract thinking tests if they reported being satisfied with their sex lives.

And the link was especially strong in women.

Previous research credited sexual intercourse with the growth of new brain cells in mice, which humans can apparently accomplish by doing something as simple as crossword puzzles.

Meanwhile, the researchers emphasize that sex is not only for the young, saying, “The reality of aging is that most people continue to have sexual feelings.”

MIA FARROW, Dorothy Malone, Ryan O’Neal, Barbara Parkins and Ed Nelson star in “Peyton Place,” a ratings sensation for ABC. The prime-time soap opera examined the complex web of scandals, schemes and sex in a New England town. Now, “Peyton Place: Part Three” is available on DVD for $34.99 from Shout! Factory.

COMPELLING crime drama “Major Crimes” began as a spin-off of “The Closer” and quickly became a hit series in its own right. The final season of the police drama about detectives investigating Los Angeles’ most complex crimes is available on DVD for $24.98 from Warner Bros. Home Entertainment.

RICHARD TURNER is one of the most renowned card magicians of all time — and “Dealt” is an up-close look at him and the secretive world of magic. The story of Turner’s colorful life and how he overcame obstacles to rise to the top of his profession is awe-inspiring. “Dealt” is available on DVD for $24.98 from IFC Films.

POWERFUL memoir “Son of a Midnight Land,” by Atz Kilcher, is a look at growing up in a family of pioneer homesteaders in Homer, Alaska. Filled with stories of a hard father and a hard land, Kilcher embraces the legacy his father created in the $27.99 book published by Blackstone Publishing.
