

Author: Arthur Chachlowski

06/26/2013.

We had (still have!) Jarocin, Americans had Woodstock and the Netherlands, as it turns out, also had their ... Woodstock. 26, 27 and 28 June 1970 in the nearby woods Kralingse Rotterdam held a three-day rock event, which was attended by about 100,000 viewers. It was apparently the largest in the history of rock marathons in the Netherlands. No wonder, after all this great music festival was attended by the then celebrities such as Pink Floyd, Canned Heat, Livin' Blues, Family, Jefferson Airplane, It's A Beautiful Day, T.Rex, Soft Machine, The Byrds, Santana, Al Stewart, East Of Eden, Coby & The Blizzards, Quintessence, and others. Such a galaxy of stars only dream of ...

Label Gonzo Multimedia released the album release which is documenting the event. The first disc is a 97-minute film that contains fragments of performances of individual artists. Each artist is represented by at least one of your recording (Santana, Jefferson Airplane and Canned Heat for two). However, this film is not mere recording of certain parts of the concert, but rather impressionistic film about the same events. Music playing somewhere in the background, images of performers appear occasionally (only at the end of the film we have a long sequence of performances by Carlos Santana and Pink Floyd), and what we see on the screen is the public recognition of precisely reflecting the atmosphere of the great hippie commune in all of its sheath and attributes (ritual burning drugs, group eating, playing in the water naked, playing between concerts, etc..) and filmed from above a field full of tulips and canals port of Rotterdam. Active - music, short sequences of existing teams, crowds of young people spread across the campsite and the crowds egzaltujących the music that reaches from the stage - has perfectly portrayed the atmosphere of the great magical feast generation flower children.

However, discs 2 and 3 releases "The Dutch Woodstock" is a CD where you can find some more music. Among other things, performed by Pink Floyd you can hear the songs "Set The Controls For The Heart Of The Sun" and "A Saucerful Of Secrets", Santana performs a medley of recordings "Gumbo" / "Savor" / "Jingo" and the band East Of Eden - "The Sun Of East" and "Irish Theme". This makes a total of nearly two hours of music, which is stopped at the time the document fixing the memory of this wonderful celebration of music, in which they had the opportunity to attend many of the Dutch (though certainly not limited to) the audience.

Released by Gonzo Multimedia album for sure will be a wonderful keepsake for the thousands of participants in the events of 43 years, and for some of the younger fans will be proof that a true, honest and just played good music does not come out of nowhere, and their modern idols really have someone spying and from whom to learn ...

http://www.mlwz.ceti.pl/index.php?option=com_content&task=view&id=11066&Itemid=26