A pre-release showing of the romantic comedy "Halloween Party" will take place at The Art Theatre tonight in Long Beach, where the film was shot and many of the producers live.

Producers Linda Palmer, Mark Cardone and Sandy Robinson shot footage entirely in Belmont Shore, in the producers' homes. It also includes many neighbors' decorated homes in the area.

Robinson, an alum of Cal State Long Beach, brought in eight university students as interns to work in various positions on the film. Some students and neighbors also served as extras.

The film, which is currently being entered in film festivals across the country, includes 29 songs, eight written specifically for the film.

A portion of tickets will be available to the public for a suggested donation of $15 per ticket.

Proceeds from the pre-release will benefit the National Coalition of the Homeless and a charity local to each city.

The film will be shown at 9 p.m. tonight at The Art Theatre, 2025 E. Fourth St., Long Beach.
