"The Hudson Brothers Razzle Dazzle Show" is one of the best of the great 70's sketch shows. Sixteen half hours of Saturday morning family programming from an era when zany used to count for something. Brett, Mark and Bill Hudson, along with (Brett's signature character) Chucky Margolis, shticking and singing their way through sixteen half hours that entertained kids of all ages. Once called "The Kings of Saturday Morning" by John Lennon himself, The Hudsons are joined by series "irregulars" Ted Ziegler, Billy Van and Murray Langston, the latter destined to become The Unknown Comic. With Rod Hull and his Emu rounding out the zoo, the Hudson Brothers will take you back to the golden age of TV variety shows. Bonus Materials include "The Best Sketches from the Hudson Brothers Show" and "The Best of Chucky Margolis."
