

Life After Death Project: (6/11/2013)* Wow. We really don't know what to say about this. The late Forry J. Ackerman was the greatest movie fan who ever lived: the publisher of Famous Monsters magazine and muse to generations of movie makers. But according to this doc he also posthumously EDITED HIS OWN BIOGRAPHY, literally marking out lines in a script after his death, which is then given the full CSI treatment to prove its authenticity. Includes comments, tributes and testimonials by Forry fans and friends such as Richard Matheson, Whitley Strieber -- and even Forry himself! Simply too much fun to be viewed alone. Our highest recommendation. - John W.McDonald
