BUGGIRL,
“Dirt In the Skirt”
(Impedance) ★★★½
— Aussie rock duo BugGiRL play the kind of straight-ahead, whiskey-soaked hard rock
that made countrymen

AC/DC famous, and this sophomore full-length has Amber and Clinton Spence shredding in all their guitar rock glory. The 10-track gem is the follow-up to last year’s dynamite “Blood, Sweat & Beers” EP, and the Spences are in peak form with Amber on guitar and vocals and Clinton on drums.

The raunchy fun “Spread That Eagle” kicks off the set, and BugGiRL additionally hit the mark on the title track, “Hungry as Hell,” “Shakin’ Up Saturday,” “Fat & Greasy,” personal favorite “Rock N Roll Ain’t a Crime” and “Rock Your City.” A couple songs fall flat (“Faster & Faster,” “Master of Disaster”), but they are minor missteps on an otherwise tremendous release. Rock on! (JS)
