Michael Schenker has always been considered a guitar god, & his playing influenced far too many players to even mention, but the big one that comes to mind immediately is Dave Mustaine from Megadeth! Mr. Schenker has a new line up of MSG, he has a new cd out & with this batch of new songs, as much as I hate to say it, the songs all sound kinda dated, there's little groundbreaking going on here, & there's a few good guitar solo's, but overall, the cd feels kinda stale in parts & I hate to trash anyone, but much of this material just feels like filler & this was actually Michael Schenker's come back record since he has some serious personal problems a few years back, so I guess the only way I can put a positive swing on this review is that, it's nice to see that MSG is still intact, that Schenker is still playing & still trying to make new music!
