

The Sun-Herald

Biloxi, MS

The Jettisoundz Promo Years: The Promos From 1983 Onwards,' Various Artists (Screen Edge/MVDvisual, 3 stars)

This March 30 DVD features fifty promotional videos of the type that sometime made MTV worth watching or wincing about.

The videos star bands somewhat past their prime like Hawkwind (two songs), UK novelty band Toy Dolls (two more) and a host of others starring in clips that are occasionally embarrassing, but usually entertaining.

Highlights include the Toy Dolls' two, Turnpike Cruisers' "That Girl's Got Mine," Bad Karma Beckons' "Six Brides for Jerry Lee," Meteors' speedy "Rawhide" and "Please Don't Touch," Empress of Fur's spooky "Johnny Voodoo" and Crazy Tim & Sid's "Going Bowling."

If you wonder what videos often didn't make mainstream MTV when they played a lot more videos than they do now, this DVD is the one for you.

- Ricky Flake

Read more here: http://www.sunherald.com/2012/04/05/3866020_p2/sound-check-songs-of-faith-from.html#storylink=cpy