What's black and white and red all over? Betty White... because she's embarrassed that we won't shut up about her!

Before she was Rose Nylund, before she was Sue Ann Nivens, and long before she was expected to breathe new life into every shelved rom-com, Super Bowl halftime ad, third-tier cable offering, and late night sketch show, White was already an established television star. Hell, the 88-year-old actress practically grew up with the medium. But how many of us have seen young Betty in action? It's not like we were born in the 1920s. Hell, they didn't even have VCRs (the thing your parents used before TiVO) back then!

Breathe easy, there's a new DVD that'll bring you up to speed. Betty White in Black and White (available November 9) offers up three hours of vintage 1950s clips starring the beloved comedienne, culled from her hit series Life with Elizabeth, as well as Date with the Angels, and her short-lived daytime program The Betty White Show. The DVD also includes Betty doing live commercials for the 7-Day Diet Plan and, in what can only be interpreted as a delightful bit of foreshadowing, Geritol.

Guest stars include Dean Martin, Jerry Lewis, and -- in a very special dance number -- Rin Tin Tin. Too bad the hosts of The View didn't ask for personal dirt on her canine co-star during White's recent appearance, the one where she may or may not have "outed" Cary Grant -- no doubt such queries would've yielded even more of what we've grown to depend on Betty for all these years: Entertaining television.
