

Louie Vega Mix The Vibe: For the Love of King Street (King Street)

It's a little weird seeing house used as a catchall phrase these days. Cool jacket Ed Banger tracks, jittery electro squelches from West London basements, sped-up Baltimore rap loops...I can dig on the populism that sort of usage implies, but it doesn't always feel like the right fit. The 28 tracks on this new mix by Master at Work Louie Vega, on the other hand, are HOUSE MUSIC, recorded live at Café Mambo in Ibiza. Sure, the soulful thump of the Dennis Ferrer and Peven Everett jams aren't really an everyday listen for this kid, but damn if Vega doesn't get me going all night long/ say what? with this one. NB
