

THE EL DUCE TAPES

An Incredible, All-Access, Backstage Pass with the Most Controversial Punk Band of All-Time!

In the early 90s, aspiring filmmaker Ryan Sexton lugged a giant camcorder into some of the seediest clubs and the filthiest apartments in Hollywood where he filmed VHS footage of the jaw-droppingly offensive Shock Rock band The Mentors, focusing on their infamous lead singer, "El Duce." 30 years later, we uncover this dusty stockpile of long forgotten and unseen footage. They begin to piece together a picture of the man under the black executioner's hood and what his wilfully offensive act and controversial views might tell us about 21st century America. An incendiary, tragicomic documentary which has been hailed as "Essential Viewing" by CineVue and called "Dark and Irresistible" by director John Carpenter, The El Duce Tapes will chew you up, spit you out, and leave you floored.
