5/5

Atrocity's 1992 effort Todessehnsucht is an over-the-top extreme death metal masterpiece. The musicianship is pure demonic genius. The drumming is some of the best ever recorded in the subgenre, and the guitar work is precise and lethal. There is no unwarranted lead unless it absolutely helps the song. Todessehnsucht is a dark, epic, deranged agro death metal record for the ages, and it is now again available for those of you that missed it the first time around. The standout tracks on Todessehnsucht are "Sky Turned Red," "Necropolis," and their homage to the mighty Death with "Archangel," a Chuck Schuldiner original which growler Alex Krull wrote lyrics for. You can't blame Atrocity for taking a shot. If you can only have one album by Atrocity in the collection, let Todessehnsucht be that album. It's head, shoulders, and femurs above the rest!
