

www.metalcorefanzine.com

- chris forbes

CRIMSON GLORY/Self Titled (Metal Mind Productions) I never liked this band much when they were around back in the late 80's, but I popped this in and I can appreciate them more now. The vocals were a love or hate type of thing as "Midnight" sang really really high pitched notes. The vocals I can tolerate as I guess I am older now ha ha. The music is some really good power metal not built so much on speed, but on just playing and having some quality hooks. This just has some great songs with lots of great hooks and even though I am not a big fan of the high pitched vocals, I have to admit "Midnight" had a very unique voice and fit the style of music the band was playing. This I will say this is much better than a bunch of the power metal bands making the rounds today. Info:

www.mvdb2b.com