

www.metalcorefanzine.com

ARTILLERY/When Death Comes (Metal Mind Productions) For the love of god this hands down is easily a thrash metal classic. My neck worked overtime and my fingers were playing air guitar like never before. This is some godly thrash metal that I bow too. The riffs on this sucker are A plus and the songs just ooze with old school feeling and aggression. Singer Fleming Ronsdorf sings his balls off as he sings each song with such feeling, passion and anger it isn't funny. The production is perfect and the guitar sound is mint. This is easily a thrash metal classic and is easily the best thing I have reviewed so far in 2009. I bow down to this. Info:

www.metalmind.com.pl