- CHRIS FORBES

RAUNCHY/Velvet Noise (Metal Mind Productions) I don't remember much about this band, but this was a pretty cool release. The band mix a style of hardcore, industrial and metal into a blender and this is what pours out. The vocals remind me of Ministry or Helmet and I would this is sort of like Helmet playing in a more fast and brutal style. The band just crush me with riff after heavy riff and the music is also catchy as it is heavy. The production is also right on the money and this was something cool and different and I enjoyed this a lot. Info:
