

<http://www.metalcorefanzine.com/>

THERAPY/Never Apologise, Never Explain (Metal Mind Productions) I have heard of this band, but not too familiar with their music. After listening to them a couple times I came away with a not bad kind of feeling. They mix in a combo of punk, hardcore and industrial. The vocals are pure hardcore in nature, which was fine by me and they have a little bit of the Ministry sound to them as well. Sort of like Godflesh meets Ministry meets hardcore and add a spice of punk. This is very different from a lot of the other stuff out there so that is a good thing as well. Cool band. Info: www.mvdb2b.com

- Chris Forbes