

LAST CRACK/Burning Time (Metal Mind Productions-originally released on Roadracer)

I always thought this was an amazing record and after listening to it again, I am still inclined to agree. This band was dark, wicked, different and sent me on a roller coaster ride. The vocals are so emotional and so good it sent me goosebumps. This band is I guess what you call an alternative band and if that is what they are, they do a damn good job and I would say they are hands down the best "alternative" band I have ever heard. This might not be for the death metal fan, but if your somebody who likes deep, dark music that will have your head spinning, here ya go. I can't recommend this enough. Info:
