

ZNOWHITE/Act Of God (Metal Mind Productions-originally release by Roadracer Records)

This is a one of the many re-issues that Metal Mind has put out and it is another killer thrash release that they have decided to put out. Just listening to this gem brought back many memories. This is one of the best speed/thrash releases ever put out. Just listen to track after track and those fuckin godly riffs and some of the best female vocals your ears will ever hear. The guitar crunch and intensity will have your neck snappin like it has never snapped before. This is band played with emotion and feeling, which is missing in today's bands. This stuff is the real deal and still to this day blows away 99% of the music being released today. Find this, take a trip back in time and prepare for your neck to get a workout. Info:
