

SADUS/Chemical Exposure (Metal Mind Productions-originally released on Roadracer)

This is a re-release of the band's 1st release which came out in 1987. This is total speed/thrash metal at it's finest. Just listen to the chaotic out of control riffs and vocals. This band was one of the most original bands back in the day and they still are today. This was one whale of a speed album back then. Just nasty speed riff after speed riff played with the speed and power not matched by many. The sound they got was original. The vocals were off the wall and sound like nobody else on this earth. Forget these nu-metal bands and go with the best, go with this band and their debut and then collect the rest.
