

GORGUTS/Considered Dead (Metal Mind Productions-originally released on Roadracer)

Gorguts were a band from Canada and put out a few albums in the early 90's when the death metal explosion was going strong. The band played semi technical death metal sort of in the vein of older Death and concentrated more on a brutal mid paced sound than just blasting away and trust me they weren't any less brutal for not playing a million miles an hour. The vocals were awesome death metal dying man vocals and the guitar sound they got was mint. When they hit the speed button it was real blasts not these cheezy tin can crap we get today.

This band is missed and the 2 releases that they put are worth hunting down and getting as they blow away 99% of the crap today without fail. Info:
