Upon first glance at this cd cover, the first thing I thought was, omg, this looks like David Bowie during the "Diamond Dogs" era! This is a re-release of the Rogue Male cd "First Visit" & it's a killer cd that reminds me of early Motorhead meets Fastway...the band is straight up hard rock, but they do sound kinda dated, but what do you expect, this cd came out in the 80's! "Crazy Motorcycle" reminds me of "Ace of Spades" in pieces, & what really makes my ears ring when I listen to this cd is the guitar tone...dammit, they had an amazing guitar tone for sure!!! Sadly, the band never really crossed over & made it in the USA, so they were somebodie's in Great Britain, but kinda nobodie's here in the USA. Again, I think this is a great rock record, it's god killer hooks & it also kinda reminds me of the 2nd Saxon record, it's just pure riff rock!
