Ian Hunter Band Live at Rockpalast DVD, 1980

Ian Hunter was a pivotal figure on the hard rock scene, as most likely you know. Starting with Mott the Hoople and then with his own band, he created some classics and made a mark. Throughout it all (more or less) fellow guitarist Mick Ronson was a part of the proceedings.

the band for an hour-long 1980 live broadcast as part of the West German television series. It's the band in good spirits doing familiar material and some new things at the time as well. There's good rocking and some Dylanesque numbers, as was Ian's wont.

The sound is fine, visuals clear and it is what it is. You will like it certainly if you like things Ian Hunter style. Good Hunter-ing!

About This Blog

Grego Applegate Edwards writes this column.

The GappleGate Guitar and Bass Blog covers music releases of interest to guitarists, bassists, vocalists, musicians and other creative people. It is also for the music lover who does not play but instead forms the core audience musicians most love. You are in the inner circle of the "true listeners." If you care about what you hear and want to know more about what is out there, you are the person I have in mind as I write these postings. If music isn't an important part of your life this blog is probably not for you.

Various musical genres get attention on these pages: jazz and rock with guitarists and/or bassists playing a prominent role, classical music for the guitar, world music, blues, roots, electric music, vocalists.

I cover other jazz and improvisation on the GappleGate Music Review blog (see link on this page) and modern classical and avant garde concert music on the new blogsite Classical-Modern Music Review (see link).

About Me

Grego
Applegate
Edwards
New York City

Metro Area, United States

I've spent my life making and listening to music, editing, writing and trying to put food on the table.

I've gone to music schools (Berklee College of Music, School of Contemporary Music), gotten advanced degrees in various related subjects (New York University, University of Chicago), written novels and been a working stiff like you. The rest is cannon fodder for those who steal identities, isn't it? Oh yes, I also write for Cadence, a periodical covering jazz and improv music, and All About Jazz, a website devoted to . . . guess! I ran a guitar shop for a while. That was interesting. I am working on some new cross-tempo-ed ensemble pieces. That's what I do. . . some of it anyway.
