

Artist: Jack Bruce

Title: Rockpalast: The 50th Birthday Concerts
(MIG Music)

You might like if you enjoy:
Cream, Gary Moore

Tell me more: Better late than never. While legendary singer-bassist Jack Bruce (best known as a member of Cream) celebrated his 50th birthday on May 14, 1993, his music pals gathered Nov. 2-3, 1993 for a full-on two-day birthday concert celebration in connection with Rockpalast. Among the notables who joined Bruce to perform were drummer Ginger Baker (Cream), saxophonist Dick Heckstall-Smith, guitarists Clem Clempson and Gary Moore, and singers Maggie Reilly and Gary Cooper. A highlight of the DVD is a fiery and bittersweet version of "White Room" featuring Baker (who sadly died in October 2014) on lead vocals and bass, while Moore (who passed away in 2011) delivers incredible lead guitar work throughout. "Rockpalast: The 50th Birthday Concerts" comes in several different packages, including a Special Edition set with 3 DVDs + bonus audio CD, and a 2-DVD edition. Information: mig-music.de.