

COLLAGE - Changes · Metal Mind / MVD

Oh man, I think that's a flute I hear... Perhaps it's a keyboard that simply sounds flute-like. I have no real frame of reference to describe this, but I'll try anyway. I guess that I'll say it's Folk/Prog/Art Rock with somewhat more of an emphasis on percussion (at times, anyway) than I would have guessed any such band possessed. It's very well done, I think, but honestly not the kind of thing that I'm inclined to like. That said, one of the bonus video tracks is a somewhat impressive live cover of John Lennon's "God" ("god is a concept by which we measure our pain / I don't believe in Jesus"). According to the press release, everything here is rare and/or previously unreleased, including two videos. - 6.5 - <Ray>

<http://metalcurse.com/reviews/>