

SATELLITE/Into The Night (MVD) This was some prog metal, but what I liked about it was it was that the band injected some much needed melody into the mix. The band play some very slow parts that really put me up on cloud 9. The singer has a strong clean voice almost like the singer from the band Yes and not the new singer, the old one. This is a nice mix of prog metal along with some slower, moving parts that really took me on a ride that I didn't want to get off. Different and exciting band here. Info:
