DELIVOS/Emanation From Below (Metal Mind Productions) This was decent death metal that didn't suck, but wasn't mind blowing neither. The band play straight forward no frills fast death metal with plenty of speed and intensity. The vocals are low growls of death and some of the fast parts, really get up there speedwise. The production is fine and this is one fans of the modern style of death will like as well as anybody that is into speed. Info:
