PYORRHOEA/Desire For Torment (Metal Mind Productions) This was some wicked fast balls to the wall death metal with some wicked time changes, riffs that had my neck moving and blast beats that would whip any Kelly Clarkson fan. The vocals I don't like the lower than low cup the mic grunts that the singer does at times. He doesn't do it all the time so I can live with it. The production is thick and the guitar sound the band get rules. This is not that cheap blast beat shit neither. This is some fast, powerful death metal and just overlook some of the vocals if you are like me. Info:
