Victor Krummenacher Goes Solo Again As The Cock Crows

Wednesday November 22, 2006 @ 06:00 PM

By: ChartAttack.com Staff

Camper Van Beethoven founding bassist Victor Krummenacher has alternated band projects with solo albums over his 21-year career, and his latest venture is a new album under his own name.

The Cock Crows At Sunrise, slated for a Feb. 20 release by MVD Audio, will be Krummenacher's fourth solo album. It follows 1995's Out In The Heat, 1998's Saint John's Mercy and 2003's Nocturne. The 63-minute disc features 13 narrative songs that sit on a bedrock of gothic-tinged country, swampy blues, Memphis soul and rock.

Krummenacher is also a member of CVB offshoot Monks Of Doom, and he formed Camper Van Chadbourne with electric rake inventor Eugene Chadbourne and CVB multi-instrumentalist Jonathan Segel (who also co-founded Magnetic Records with Krummenacher). The Riverside, California native has contributed to numerous Chadbourne solo records, Cracker's Forever and Greenland albums, and he continues to play with the Campers, who he'll appear with on an upcoming DVD.

Here are the songs on The Cock Crows At Sunrise:

- "Sunday Morning Blues"
- "The Southern Heights"
- "If I Could Ride That Train"
- "Morphine Conceals 1,000 Sins"
- "C'mon Miss Nancy"
- "Jack Of Diamonds"
- "In Queen City The Girls Are Weeping"
- "Interlude"
