

- help
- search
- members
- calendar
- trf map

Help Support TRF!

CLICK to order TRF Merchandise!

- log in
- register
- resend validation email

The Rush Forum -> General Discussion -> Music Of The Spheres

- add reply
- new topic
- new poll

The New "Carl Palmer Drum Solos" DVD Reveals, Something Very Interesting! 1974 Solo!

Track this topic | Email this topic | Print this topic

RUSHHEAD666

Posted: Mar 17 2011, 07:08 PM

quote

I just picked up the new "Carl Palmer Drum Solos" dvd. It's short but sweet!
 It consists of three very incredible drum solos.
 The first solo is at the California Jam in 1974.
 Now in my mind I always thought that Mr. Peart was the inventor of the spinning drum kit. Damn am I wrong again!
 I sitting there watching Carl's amazing solo on "Karn Evil 9" and all of the sudden his kit begins to spin around. Incredible. He is banging his two gongs while dinging a giant bell above his head with his teeth.

My name is Earl

There is no doubt that Carl is one of premier drummers in the world.
 I almost believe that Carl is better than Neil after watching these solos.

Group: Members
 Posts: 11,461
 Member No.: 3,425
 Joined: 5-September 06

Carl still hasn't lost any speed during his solos where I think Neil is slowing down a bit.

I saw Carl in ASIA a few years ago and his solo was still mind blowing.
 His snare speed reminds me of Buddy Rich.

Location: California
Local Time: 9:27 am

- pm
- email

metaldad

Posted: Mar 17 2011, 07:53 PM

QUOTE (RUSHHEAD666 @ Mar 17 2011, 07:08 PM)

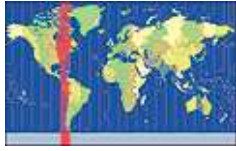

I almost believe that Carl is better than Neil after watching these solos.

Believe it, he is

Official TRF Chauffeur

The Gracie

Group: Members
Posts: 12,508
Member No.: 4,734
Joined: 2-May 07

Location: Next to the beer cooler
Local Time: 11:27 am

Help Support TRF!

Please help offset the costs of running TRF by purchasing from a sponsor!

	Please help support TRF by shopping at Amazon.com through this link!
--	--

Save on Thousands of CDs	amazon.com Shop now	Privacy
--------------------------	------------------------	---------

Cyberspace
Local Time: 12:00 am

Help Support TRF!
--------------------------	--	--

RUSHHEAD666

My name is Earl

Posted: Mar 17 2011, 08:01 PM

QUOTE (metaldad @ Mar 17 2011, 05:53 PM)

QUOTE (RUSHHEAD666 @ Mar 17 2011, 07:08 PM)

I almost believe that Carl is better than Neil after watching these solos.

Believe it, he is

Yes dad. I just watched all three solos. The truth hurts.

He blows Neil away.

Group: Members
Posts: 11,461
Member No.: 3,425
Joined: 5-September 06

Location: California
Local Time: 9:27 am

Xanadood

Solar Federalist

Group: Members *
Posts: 2,238
Member No.: 8,176
Joined: 15-January 09

Location: Boston
Local Time: 11:27 am

ColdFireYYZ

Rushaholic

Group: Members
Posts: 1,812
Member No.: 9,703
Joined: 5-July 10

Location: West Haven,
Connecticut

Posted: Mar 17 2011, 09:16 PM

QUOTE (RUSHHEAD666 @ Mar 17 2011, 08:01 PM)

QUOTE (metaldad @ Mar 17 2011, 05:53 PM)

QUOTE (RUSHHEAD666 @ Mar 17 2011, 07:08 PM)

I almost believe that Carl is better than Neil after watching these solos.

Believe it, he is

Yes dad. I just watched all three solos. The truth hurts.

He blows Neil away.

Technically I think Palmer smokes Neil, but I still prefer Neil's playing overall with Rush than Palmer's in ELP, if that makes any sense.

Posted: Mar 17 2011, 09:21 PM

He's a great drummer. I wish I was around in the 70's to see him with ELP.

Local Time: 12:27 pm

Earthshine

Posted: Mar 18 2011, 03:59 AM

Carl Palmer is the greatest drummer/percussionist in history. Period! 😊

The Professor

Group: Members *
Posts: 3,642
Member No.: 3,270
Joined: 24-July 06

Local Time: 11:27 am

tjtull

Posted: Mar 18 2011, 07:41 AM

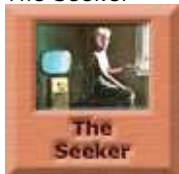

He was my favorite drummer for a while, before I got into RUSH. For some reason, I always overlook him when the obligatory "who's your favorite drummer" lists are posted.

Thanks for the reminder!!

The Seeker

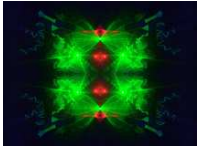

Group: Members
Posts: 399
Member No.: 10,589
Joined: 6-October 10

Location: St. Louis, MO
Local Time: 11:27 am

spacingment

Posted: Mar 19 2011, 12:02 AM

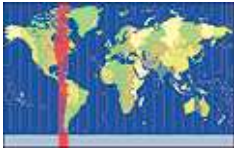

At least Neil kept his shirt on during his solos. And thank god Carl did last time I saw Asia.

The Seeker

Group: Members
Posts: 116
Member No.: 9,367
Joined: 25-May 10

Location: The Bay Area in general
Local Time: 11:27 am

Tony R

Posted: Mar 19 2011, 03:55 AM

I saw ELP twice in the 70s and always found him a bit sloppy live as all the band could be on occasion. I think he's the original flash drummer paving the way for Peart et al. I'm not a Peart fanboy by any stretch of the imagination but I think Peart is much better technically.

Rushaholic

Group: Members *
Posts: 1,795
Member No.: 4,885
Joined: 21-May 07

Location: Close To The Edge
Local Time: 5:27 pm

Earthshine

Posted: Mar 19 2011, 04:18 AM

Palmer grew up on Jazz. His solo Anthology begins with a recording of Buddy Rich saying "Carl, wanna play?" I love it!

The Professor

Group: Members *
Posts: 3,642
Member No.: 3,270
Joined: 24-July 06

Local Time: 11:27 am

0 User(s) are reading this topic (0 Guests and 0 Anonymous Users):

« Next Oldest | Music Of The Spheres | Next Newest »

Jump to:

The largest range of music posters in the world!

RAP ALTERNATIVE METAL