"Elvis Found Alive"

What's Elvis been doing all of these years since his death was faked? According to this direct-to-video documentary, the former king of rock 'n' roll has been living in Simi Valley, California, trying to revive his singing career after going underground as FBI agent John Burrows. Back in the 1970s, he persuaded President Richard Nixon to make him a special federal agent so he could save America from hippie terrorists and Mafia crimelords. But now that he's ready to return, an ungrateful America is turning a cold shoulder on him. Hey, it could have happened. Unrated, 128 minutes. From MVD Visual. Released Jan. 24.
