

Triple Threat Of Terror {MVD} Be afraid... be very afraid cuz the "Three biggest names in Horror Rock battle it out," on this 15 track comp. Why be afraid? Well, if these dudes represent the "Three biggest names" then the entire cliched Horror Rock world is scarily void of originality. CREEPSHOW crawl out of their coffins first and show more energy than the laconic lurch of their albums but, ultimately, bore. DIE MONSTER DIE follow and are, by far, the best band here doing a snappy Punk Rock 'n' Roll deal that, kinda oddly, kept reminding me of NAKED RAYGUN in a blood bath with SUPERSUCKERS. They also claim 'best song title' with 'A Priest And A Zombie Rent A Fishing Boat As Friends'! Finally, OTHERS throw up some truly annoying Metal that nearly made me throw up! I've said it before, but I'm always skeptical of bands that hide behind make-up - this does nothing but reinforce that belief. (11.11.11)
