Rose Tattoo – Live from Boggo Road Jail 1993

The guys of Rose Tattoo are considered as the bad boys of Australian hard rock with songs like "Bad Boy for Love" and "Rock 'n' Roll Outlaw". In 1993, for the closing of the Boggo Road Jail, the original members reunited to give a huge concert along with the Divinyls and Billy Thorpe and the Aztecs. Angry Anderson and his band then delivered an energetic concert including their 11 best songs in career. This 54-minute concert is presented on DVD when the band managed to prove that it still has all the energy of its debut in 1976. Among the highlights, you can hear among others "Nice Boys" (which was covered by Guns N 'Roses a few years before that show), their very personal version of "Street Fighting Man" of the Rolling Stones, and "Going Down " of Jeff Beck in conclusion.
