

For sports fans there is Ali – The Man, The Moves, The Mouth. I have to admit that I am not a boxing fan but there is just something about the story of Cassius Clay AKA Muhammad Ali that just draws you in. I do not like some of the publicity stunts involving the now very old and fragile man that have been staged in recent years. Boxers come and go, but Ali was cut from a different cloth. He matched physical skill with a razor sharp tongue.

<http://www.bloggernews.net/128768>