The creators of "The Puppet Monster Massacre" bring you a grindhouse spectacular filled with blood, special fx and southern rock: "Zombie A-Hole." It's the story of a religious cowboy, a lost soul and a beautiful one-eyed grease monkey fixing to exact bloody vengeance on a low-down, dirty, disgusting, depraved, sadistic, psychotic, hell-bent, grade-F, Zombie A-Hole who preys on naked twin girls. He ain't gonna know what hit him!

"Zombie A-Hole" is comic book-stylized "Planet Terror" meets "Sin City" meets "The Good, the Bad & the Ugly," where the men are hard-asses and the women are bombshells. Filmed in Toledo, OH and Portland, IN with a reported budget of $1,000, this southern gothic exploitation film is director Dustin Mills' first live action film. Sounds like the ideal summer movie!?

The DVD is being released on August 21. For more info, go to www.seeofsound.com (<http://www.seeofsound.com>) and search "Zombie A-Hole."
