

OutSmart

Houston's gay, lesbian, bi, and trans magazine

Play in the Gray

[0] August 1, 2012 | Staff Reporters

Be Sociable, Share!

inShare

Based in Boston, the women of Boston drag-based theatre troupe All The King's Men challenge gender stereotypes through performance. In this thoughtful doc, they share intimate glimpses of their personal lives as they struggle to define how they fit into a world that is traditionally too restrictive to embrace the women (or men, or both) that they are. Kaitlin Meelia directs. 2009. MVD Entertainment Group (mvdb2b.com). —Nancy Ford