"YOUR AMERICAN TEEN"

American Teenage Girls

Amos Lassen

"Your American Teen" is a documentary about the sexual exploitation of teenage American girls in the Pacific Northwest. We see that with incest, drugs, violence advertising movies and sexual harassment, the American teenage girl is under attack. The film follows three teenage girls who went through traumas as children and teens. All three had parents who either could not or did not want to take care of them. While their stories are quite sad and to a degree horrifying, we do see hope and beauty in them.

The film shows the underbelly of American society in brutal honesty and the viewer gets quite an education. The film is very important in that every 30 seconds another victim is lost to human trafficking some of whom are 12 years old or even younger. The film was made in association with the Jennifer A. Lynch Committee Against Domestic Violence and Charles Taylor Gould who had been advocating for children's rights for the last decade. This is a must see for parents and children alike and hopefully this will help to end this problem.
