Track Listing: Lecher Bitch, Public Enemy, Flesh is the Law, Terrorvision, Guns Are Good, All Hell Breaks Loose, 120 Days

Rating: 5 stars

Jen & company put out "Flesh is the Law" a few years back & it's now being re-issued, & it's pretty much the same pressing, just it's being made more widely available via distribution from MVD, & "Flesh is the Law" is probably the bands best cd for the fact that they really got it all together, their song writing was really strong, & there's no denying they still maintain that trashy quality that makes them who they are, but they also are the pre-cursor to Marilyn Manson and all the shock rock that came from around that same era...the themes for every other song are exactly what you'd expect, pain, submission, & sex. The band maintains their trademark sound with scorching guitars, Jen's vocals that range from shrieks to subtle, soft singing, & the rhythm is undeniably punchy & you can dance to it as well as start a mosh pit! The live tracks on the disc are killer too I might add!
