Terror - Live June 10, 2004 : The Bowery Collection

Straight from the CBGB soundboard comes a live set by the always destructive Terror. The sound quality may not be top notch but I can easily let it slip because it kinda represents the whole DIY spirit CBGB's was known for. As for this particular show, Terror cranks out eleven tunes of their metallic hardcore and get the place going like they always do. Scott Vogel is obviously enjoying a hometown moment and it makes for a memorable passage with the rest of the band shredding like crazy.

Keep an eye out for a lot more releases in this series as CBGB's has opened their vaults. Other titles already include Mooney Suzuki, The Queers, H2O and The Toasters. With a portion of sales going to the Hilly Kristal Foundation for Musicians and Artists, this will definitely do no harm in keeping the CBGB legend alive.

Score: 7 out of 10

ABOUT PUNKROCKTHEORY.COM

PunkRockTheory.com is an online zine that has been around for seven years. We still love to force our elitist opinions on people and ask bands the dumbest things first. We currently have twelve restraining orders running against us and we are working on lucky number thirteen!

Recently our server crashed and we lost everything, including our whole database. Since work on the new site is taking a bit longer than expected, we're using this blog for now to post all the latest reviews and interviews.

We hope that's fine with you.
