God only knows what I'd do without Ween...

Where would we be without Ween? One minute capable of conjuring up sublime slices of pop-funk, the next a moment of twisted mongery so wrong you have to shower after listening. They're the kings of weird and the queens of stupid, and they're as unique as they are irreplaceable.

This here CD & DVD package covers some live action from back in 1992 when they didn't hold back one iota on the strangitudinal factor, and long before the at least partially sensible likes of "Chocolate And Cheese" or "The Mollusk". As a result the emphasis is squarely on the odd, as song titles like "Big Jilm", "Captain Fantasy", "Marble Tulip Juicy Tree" and "Reggaejunkiejew" attest.

This is Ween in all their glorious, pre-"success" bizarrry, and while it's not going to be for everyone, or even every Ween fan come to that, few bands with their sense of experimentalism and "anything goes" attitude conjure moments as awesome as this frequently does. Not a place to start exploring the world of Ween, but an essential stopping point for any established fan.
